Here's a draft of the agenda that I'd want to cover whenever we can meet:

1. Determine the website approach (dependent on the level of city involvement)
   - Right now there is dual maintenance with the city page & our own site.
   - Is the city site good enough that we could replicate our structure & have support from them on issues?
     - Would remove our own website cost potentially
     - Would require a migration effort to shift everything so we still have the historical documents & posts
   - If we keep our existing page, would it make sense to look at upgrading to another platform in place of wordpress?
     - If we have the budget, we could look to modernize & upgrade to newer technology.
2. Getting more connected
   - Have a contact within each of the committees to help coordinate postings
     - Want to ensure word is getting out for all meetings
     - Z&V is good on this & when there are elections, we get that info
   - Reaching the broader community
     - With the loss of more print media in the neighborhood, fewer outlets available to spread the word
     - Are there creative ways to get more outreach besides the social media platforms
3. Other topics for discussion
   - Virtual Meeting structure - handling hybrid meetings
     - Ways to take in questions from those watching remotely - comments or feed within chat
     - Likely hard to make it talking back & forth on the video
   - Online Elections
     - Could there be a way to do this assuming city approval?
     - Think about controls that would need to be in place
   - Surveys/Fact Finding
     - Pulling together critical items to then outreach to the community for feedback
     - Could revolve around potential developments or general improvements they'd want to see
4. Open Forum
